

Reconstruction Structured Academic Controversy (SAC)

Central Historical Question:
Were African Americans free during Reconstruction?

Materials:

- Copies of Reconstruction Timeline
- Copies of Documents A-E
- Copies of Guiding Questions
- Copies of SAC Graphic Organizer

Plan of Instruction:

Note: This activity works best if students have an opportunity to read documents and answer Guiding Questions before starting the SAC.

1. Introduction: Review that Reconstruction was the period between 1865 and 1877, when the nation tried to rebuild itself after the Civil War. One of the main questions facing Americans during this period was whether the federal government would pass laws to protect the rights of African Americans.

Hand out Reconstruction Timeline and review with students.

The question for today's SAC is: Were African Americans free during Reconstruction?

2. Divide students into groups of four, and then divide each group of four into Team A and Team B.

Team A argues African Americans were free during Reconstruction.
Team B argues African Americans were not free during Reconstruction.

Teams use Graphic Organizer to collect data for their side. [If students haven't answered Guiding Questions in advance, they should do so before collecting evidence for their argument].

3. Team A presents to Team B, and Team B repeats arguments back to Team A, until Team A is satisfied.
4. Team B presents to Team A, and Team A repeats arguments back to Team B, until Team B is satisfied.
5. Teams try to reach consensus.
6. Share out groups' consensus. Discuss:

- Were African Americans free during Reconstruction? In what ways?
 - What does it mean to be free?
 - Based on these documents, was Reconstruction a success or failure?

Document A: The Reconstruction Amendments (Modified)

The 13th, 14th and 15th amendments to the United States Constitution are sometimes called the “Reconstruction Amendments.” They were passed in order to abolish slavery and to establish the rights of former slaves.

13th Amendment: 1865

Section 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

14th Amendment: 1868

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States . . . are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

15th Amendment: 1870

Section 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

Vocabulary

jurisdiction: legal control naturalized: made citizens
abridge: limit
immunities: rights

Document B: Black Codes (Modified)

In the years following the Civil War, many Southern states and cities passed Black Codes. These laws laid out what freed blacks were and were not allowed to do. The document below, passed July 3, 1865, is a Black Code from Opelousas, Louisiana.

SECTION 1. No negro shall be allowed to come within the limits of the town of Opelousas without special permission from his employers.

SECTION 3. No negro shall be permitted to rent or keep a house within the limits of the town under any circumstances.

SECTION 4. No negro shall reside within the limits of the town of Opelousas who is not in the regular service of some white person or former owner.

SECTION 5. No public meetings of negroes shall be allowed within the limits of the town of Opelousas under any circumstances without the permission of the mayor or president of the board of police. This, however, does not prevent the freedmen from attending the usual church services.

SECTION 7. No freedman who is not in the military service shall be allowed to carry firearms, or any kind of weapons, within the limits of the town of Opelousas without the special permission of his employer, in writing, and approved by the mayor or president of the board of police.

SECTION 11. All the foregoing provisions apply to freedmen and freedwomen.

Vocabulary

reside: to live in

Document C: Henry Adams Statement (Modified)

In September 1865 I asked the boss to let me go to the city of Shreveport. He said, "All right, when will you come back?" I told him "next week." He said, "You had better carry a pass." I said, "I will see whether I am free by going without a pass."

I met four white men about six miles south of town. One of them asked me who I belonged to. I told him no one. So him and two others struck me with a stick and told me they were going to kill me and every other Negro who told them that they did not belong to anyone. They left me and I then went on to Shreveport. I saw over twelve colored men and women, beat, shot and hung between there and Shreveport.

Sunday I went back home. The boss was not at home. I asked the madam [the boss's wife], "where was the boss?" She said, "You should say 'master'. You all are not free . . . and you shall call every white lady 'missus' and every white man 'master.'"

During the same week the madam took a stick and beat one of the young colored girls, who was about fifteen years of age. The boss came the next day and whipped the same girl nearly to death. . . . After the whipping a large number of young colored people decided to leave that place for Shreveport. [On our way], out came about forty armed white men and shot at us and took my horse. They said they were going to kill every colored person they found leaving their masters.

Document D: Elected Black Officials during Reconstruction

During Reconstruction, thousands of African Americans were elected to local and state governments throughout the Southern states. In addition, 17 African Americans were elected to the United States Congress from Southern states between 1870 and 1877. Here are photographs of 6 of these 17 elected officials.

Blanche Bruce
U.S. Senator
Mississippi
1875-1881

Robert DeLarge
U.S. Representative
South Carolina
1871-1873

Jefferson Long
U.S. Representative
Georgia
1871

Joseph Rainey
U.S. Representative
South Carolina
1870-1879

Benjamin Turner
U.S. Representative
Alabama
1871-1873

Josiah Walls
U.S. Representative
Florida
1871-1876

Document E: Education (Modified)

In 1865 the United States government created the Freedmen's Bureau to help former slaves in Southern states. The Freedmen's Bureau helped people by providing medical supplies and health care and establishing schools.

The creation of schools for former slaves was an important part of Reconstruction. Before the Civil War, Southern states outlawed the teaching of reading and writing to slaves.

Many of the negroes . . . common plantation negroes, and day laborers in the towns and villages, were supporting little schools themselves. Everywhere I found them hoping to get their children into schools. I often noticed that workers in stores and men working in warehouses, and cart drivers on the streets, had spelling books with them, and were studying them during the time they were not working. Go outside any large town in the South, and walk among the negro housing, and you will see children and in many cases grown negroes, sitting in the sun alongside their cabins studying.

Guiding Questions

Document A: The Reconstruction Amendments

1. When were the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments passed?
2. Why do you think they were passed?
3. What rights did they guarantee for American citizens?

Document B: Black Codes

1. When were these Black Codes written? Who do you think wrote these laws?
2. List three things that freed men and women were not allowed to do according to the Black Codes.
3. Why would white Southerners pass laws that controlled the movement of African Americans? What would happen if African Americans left the South in huge numbers?
4. How do these laws help you to understand what life was like in Louisiana and other Southern states after the Civil War?

Document C: Henry Adams's Statement

1. Who wrote this document? When and why was it written?
2. According to Adams, what was life like for freed men and women after the Civil War?
3. Do you trust the account in this document? Why or why not?

Document D: African American Political Representation

What does this information about African-American politicians tell you about what life was like for African Americans during Reconstruction?

Document E: Education

1. Why do you think education was important to former slaves during Reconstruction?
2. How does this description of life for freedmen compare to Henry Adams's statement?

Structured Academic Controversy: Reconstruction

Reconstruction was the period between 1865 and 1877, when the nation tried to build itself after the Civil War.

During today's class, you will work in teams to discuss whether or not African Americans were free during Reconstruction. Your goals for today should include looking at all the issues, seeing both sides, and finding common ground.

SAC QUESTION: Were African Americans free during Reconstruction?

Team A will argue: YES, African Americans were free during Reconstruction.

Team B will argue: NO, African Americans were NOT free during Reconstruction.

PROCEDURE

30 minutes With your teammate, read the documents in the Reconstruction document set. Find four pieces of evidence which support your side

10 minutes Team A presents. BOTH PARTNERS MUST PRESENT!!!
Team B writes down Team A's arguments and then repeats them back to Team A.

10 minutes Team B presents. BOTH PARTNERS MUST PRESENT!!!
Team A down arguments of Team B and then repeats them back to Team B.

10 minutes Everyone CAN ABANDON their positions. Group of 4 attempts to develop a consensus.
